

Earlie James is an author, certified leadership coach, teacher, trainer, speaker, pastor, and recovery coach. His mission is to help individuals understand who they are and why they are here. To help them develop competencies that will enable them to release their voice, overcome life traumas, find their creative genius, and apprehend the life they were meant to live.

James is also president of Living Life Center LLC, a progressive publishing corporation designed to teach individuals how to overcome adverse circumstances and develop key leadership competencies to live more productive and effective lives. He is referred to as “The Teacher” by many because individuals are experiencing life on a higher level because of his teachings.

For the past 28 years, James has traveled the United States extensively. He has authored several books, including Life Beyond Trauma, The Unique Factor, Stuck, and The Genius Plan. James is also an accomplished business professional with experience in retail management, retail banking, sales, and corporate training and development. He has spent the last 25 years in the retail & financial services industry, and has managed several financial institutions and retail stores for major Fortune 500 companies in Chicago and Philadelphia. He was responsible for the design and implementation of career development programs, strategic planning, curriculums, and training roll-out for new leaders.

James is the Apostle & Senior Pastor of Liberty Temple Philly - West church in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. James holds his degree in Theology and is presently working on his Masters. He currently serves as the Chief Operating Officer (COO) of Liberty International Network. He also works with numerous shelters, and serves the homeless, elderly, and abused children, serving as a mentor, public speaker, and advocate. He resides in Philadelphia with his wife Rhonda and their son, EJ. He can be reached online at www.earliejames.com.
